Difficulty :

Pieces :

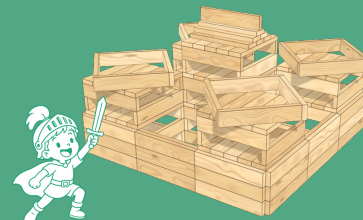

~180

Age :

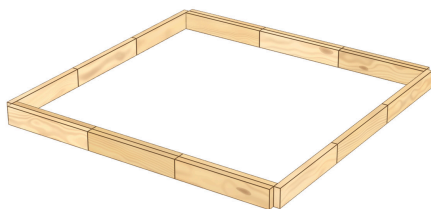

+7

Duration :

~45 min

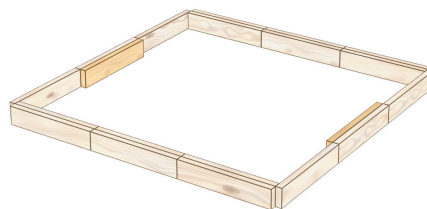

1

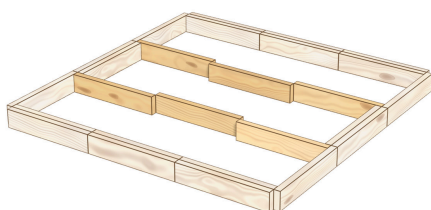

Start with a square of 3 Kapla by 3. On 2 parallel sides, add a row of planks towards the outside.

2

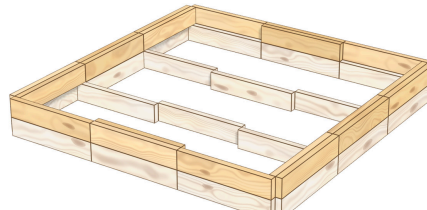

On the other 2 sides, double only the middle plank, on the inside.

3

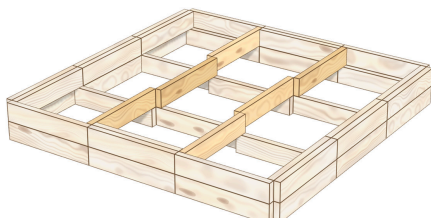

To build the base of the great tower, lay one piece at right angles towards the centre on each side of these last 2 Kapla (4 in all). Finally, join the Kapla together in the middle, one notch closer to the centre.

4

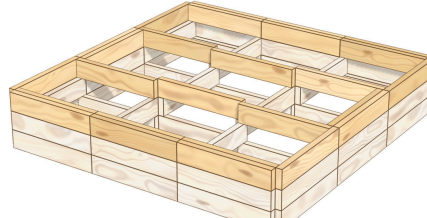

If your base is right, you can now raise the castle wall by one level, swapping the order of the previous step: where the wall was 6 Kapla thick, build only the outer wall and double the middle plank, and the other way round.

5

Next, start the inner tower the same way as before: on the middle lining, set 2 Kapla on each side and join them in the centre.

6

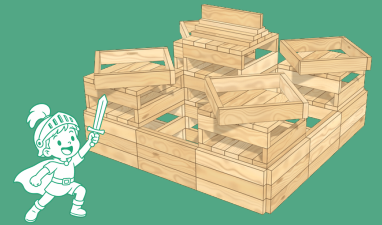

Do it all once more! The wall is now three Kapla thick.

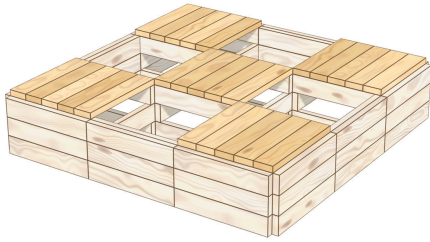

SUPER!

Castle

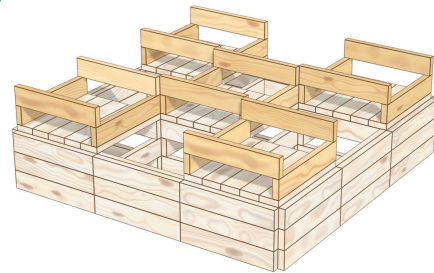

7

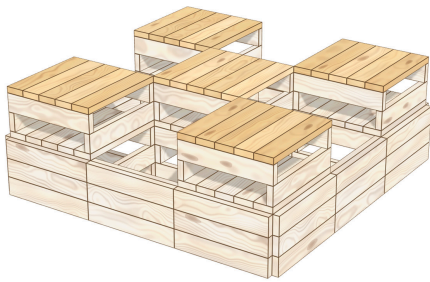

Cover each tower with five flat planks, packed tightly together. This is the floor of the upper level: without it, the next row would have nothing to rest on.

8

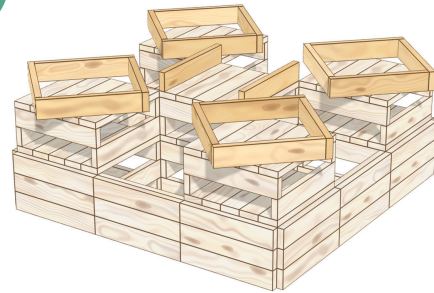

Time to build the towers up again! On each of the 5 floors, at the ends, place 2 Kapla, alternating the direction at each level: the towers and the keep now rise above the wall.

9

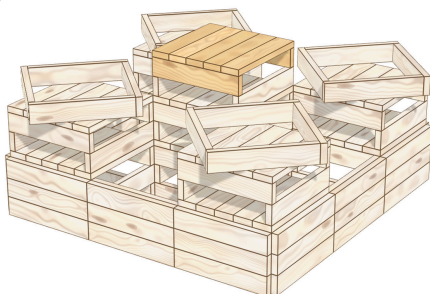

Close the top of each tower with five flat planks, as for the floors. These are the terraces, which will receive the castle's battlements.

10

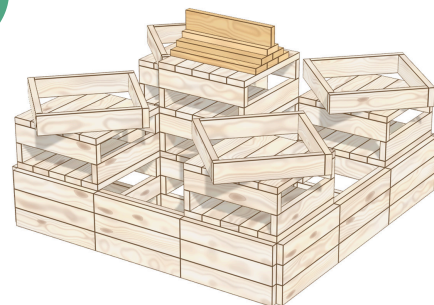

On each corner tower, lay four planks on their edge in a square, turned at an angle to the tower. Each one covers the end of the previous one. Add a course to the keep (the middle tower).

11

Add one last level to the keep using 2 side Kapla, then close it with 5 pieces laid flat.

12

Stack 3 heights of flat planks, first with 3 planks, then 2, then 1. Then lay the last plank on its edge at the very top. This is the ridge, the top edge of the roof. Your castle is finished!

BRAVO!
