1

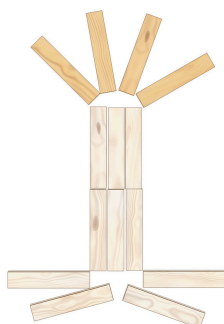

Lay six planks flat in two rows of three, tight against one another. This is the trunk of your tree.

2

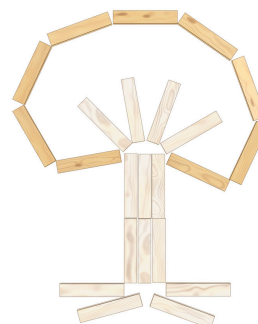

At the foot of the trunk, lay four Kapla spreading out on each side. These are the roots, which hold the tree in the ground.

3

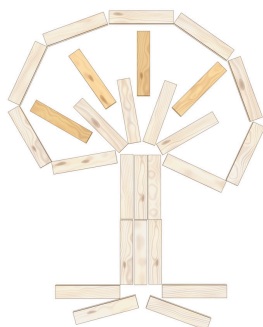

At the top of the trunk, lay four planks fanning out, like the fingers of an open hand.

4

Go round the top of the tree with nine planks end to end. This is the crown, all the leaves of the tree.

5

Slip the last four branches in between the first ones, inside the crown. Your tree is finished!

BRAVO!
